

Reviews for THE CORAL HILLS RESORT

" we loved it "

Submitted By: ally01

my mum and i booked our holiday to coral hills from off teletext, we didnt know what to expect as we couldnt find it in any brochures but i knew the area well and was happy to book it on that basis. Then we found some bad reviews on holidaywatchdog so was a little bit nervous, we shouldnt have been as we loved it from the minute we arrived to we left.

The hotel itself is lovely and our welcome was great. we met the manager amir who couldnt have been nicer to us or have done any more for us. we only had one problem of our safe being broken and it was fixed straight away. the hotel was quiet when we were there but it meant we had the pools pretty much to ourselves which was lovely. the boys who worked round the pool were great and got ur sunbed and towels for you as soon as you came to them. The staff were lovely and all were so helpful, they helped make our holiday for us so a big thankyou 2 all of them. The food was fine, yes it wasnt the warmest but ive not been to any hotel in egypt where it is, they try to cook for all the nationalities there, we usually found something to eat but if we didnt it wasnt because there was something wrong with it , it was just not what we always wanted, anyway we like to eat out some nights too. They had 3 bbbq nights when we were there and the food was lovely, there was entertainment too. So let people make up there own mind on this hotel but we loved it and would go back again 2moro if we could alison. belfast

Advice: theres something for everybody there, cant wait to go back in september

Activities: picassos restaurant if your missing a taste of home

" Value for money "

I chose this resort as it seemed ideal for my partner and I to have a relaxing week 'away from it all' and that's exactly what we got and at a very good price. It's obviously not the best resort in Egypt but it's priced accordingly and we thought it was very good value for money. The staff are very friendly and cannot do enough for you, both pools are clean and the surrounding gardens are well kept. There's a man made waterfall creation which was a pleasant surprise and also a nomadic type tent where you can enjoy a coffee etc on the scatter cushions. there is also a Spa where you can get very good value massages etc.

Advice: Built for tourists expect everything that goes with a tourist resort.

" Thank you "

Thank you Coral Hills and all the staff. This was our first time in Egypt, but thanks to the staff at Coral Hills, we would return again. Went All Inclusive and we found that although a lot of food was repetitive it was ok. Facilities were good if you just want a relaxing holiday. A lot of building work going on in the area but did not affect our holiday

Advice: Would return to this hotel

We went to Sharm for the 1st time as a last minute break. We stayed at the Coraal Hill's Resort. From our arrival until our departure we can honestly say we never experienced any of the problems that some people have mentioned in their reviews.

We found that all the staff from reception to waiter's bar staff cleaner's and even gardener's were very polite and always very helpful. We didn't have to wait for anything if we asked for something we received it straight away. We only ate breakfast in the hotel and as much as it was basic and a little repetitive what do people want for breakfast there was fruit juice tea/coffee cereal fresh bread which you could have toasted if you wanted fresh couscous don't know if I've spelt that right but I'm sure you know what I mean and fresh fruit salad. You could have fried eggs or omelettes made on demand and if you're not happy after eating that lot I think you may have a serious problem and I don't think you could hold the responsible for that. We can't comment on evening meals as we ate out for ours but whilst we were there we didn't hear anybody complain about the food. Overall we can not say that we experienced any problems and are thinking of returning next year for 2 weeks and bringing other family members with us and we would look 1st at booking in at the Coral Hills Resort many thanks for making our 1st stay in Sharm such a great memory.

" me and my sister in law went to this... "

me and my sister in law went to this hotel in May and all I can say it was brilliant, re-read reports before we went and was a bit curious. I have been to Egypt 2 times before and the hotels were good but this hotel and the food also the service and the WAITERS were absolutely brilliant we will be going again and I have recommended it to many people. Going in May was very quiet which is what we wanted but the food and service and all the people were brilliant we just couldn't fault it at all. Even the food we ate in every day we didn't even have to go out to find other places to eat so please don't always believe what other people say and give it a go promise you won't be disappointed.
